

OWNERS ANXIOUS TO CLOSE DOCK

Trigg Shipbuilding Bondholders
File Petition With Corporation Commission.

ACT NOW UNDER NEW LAW

Current Report That Manufacturing Plants Will Get Property Sites.

Citing a brand new act of the General Assembly to cover the case, Speaker R. E. Byrd, counsel for the bondholders committee of the W. R. Trigg Shipbuilding Company, yesterday filed a petition with the State Corporation Commission asking that the city dock be closed and surrendered to be used as private property. The dock is the property of the company petitioning, but under the present law is open to public use. Now, if the Corporation Commission sees fit, it can cut off the public use of the property, by the terms of the new act, and if it decides to cut it off, the marketable value of the land or the value of the land to private parties will be greatly increased, for the easement now enjoyed by the public is in the nature of an encumbrance on the property, so far as its use by private parties is concerned.

Talk of Development.
It was rumored yesterday that the petition filed had some connection with the plans of a syndicate which has been formed with a view to the purpose of acquiring the dock property, filling the basin and utilizing the land thus reclaimed as sites for manufacturing plants. This rumor is plausible, for as the matter now stands, this could not be done, for there could be no filling in while the public has its right of free use of the dock. To fill up the basin and reclaim the land would interfere with the easement.

The Corporation Commission has set July 26 as a date when all parties interested in the matter may file a written answer to the petition filed by the counsel for the stockholders of the Trigg Shipbuilding Company.

This is the first known instance where the new act has been resorted to. This act caused a good deal of curiosity when it was first noticed, and there has been some wonderment as to its purpose. Though general, of course, in its terms, there have been some rumors to the effect that it was designed to fit cases here in Richmond.

URGES EDUCATION IN MISSION WORK

Lack of Interest, Speaker Declares, Follows Limited Knowledge.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Asheville, N. C., July 8.—The statement that no man ever takes any more interest in missions or any other enterprise than he loves that enterprise was once upon which Rev. R. W. Patton, D. D., of Virginia, laid special emphasis this morning in his address before the Young People's Missionary conference. He said that it is a well proven fact that no man is stronger than the power of his affection; that the power a man has to live is the measure of his power to act in any enterprise. Dr. Patton is department secretary of foreign missions of the Protestant Church, and he is one of the most interesting speakers who has addressed the conference. He has had a wide experience in dealing with missionary problems, and he says that he is fully convinced the reason so many men are not interested in this work is because of the lack of missionary information and the lack of which they possess. He made an appeal for education in missions, and cited instances proving his assertion that education increases interest in this work.

Rev. S. L. Woodbridge, D. D., who has spent twenty-eight years in China as a missionary of the Southern Presbyterian Church, also addressed the conference to-day. He is the editor of the Christian Intelligence, a published in China, and he gave an account of practical suggestions regarding missionary work among the Chinese.

Japan was the subject of an address which Edmund D. Soper, of New York, delivered this evening.

A large number of delegates were delightedly entertained this afternoon at a reception given at the "Peace Memorial Building," which is one of the buildings of the Normal and Collegiate Institute. This school, which is playing such an important part in the industrial education of hundreds of girls in the South, is made possible through the liberality of Rev. and Mrs. L. M. Pease, the latter still living and ninety years of age. The buildings are commodious and command a beautiful view, making them exceedingly popular as the meeting places of such conferences as that now in session here.

The reception this afternoon, in addition to being a social occasion, afforded the delegates a rare opportunity of looking over the model building of the school.

The delegates are much interested in the making of a voluntary contribution to the cause of foreign missions, and it is believed that such a contribution in the form of pledges will reach more than $1,000 before the conference closes on Sunday evening. What is contributed in this way will not be applied toward the support of the Young People's Movement, but will be sent to the foreign mission stations of the various denominations. It is not a collection, but a voluntary contribution.

The conference will hear addresses to-morrow from other missionaries.

PUT NO FAITH IN TALK OF CHANGES

Rumors of Police Department
Shake-Up Due to Some Political Ring.

WISH FATHER TO THOUGHT

New Commissioners Not Behind
Move to Oust Department Heads.

Vague rumors of an expected shake-up in and reorganization of the Police Department, which arise periodically and disappear, seem to be as unfounded in this instance as they have always been before. The rumor had it that Major Werner was to be ousted, that Captain McMahon was to be superseded, and what not. Both Major Werner and Captain McMahon were smiling confidently yesterday afternoon, and appeared to be as serenely busy as usual. They are used to such rumors, and give them not even a passing thought.

Some people placed some confidence in the rumor because of the defeat of Walter Duke from Monroe Ward, and Joseph B. Welch, from Marshall Ward, and the election of Cliff Ward and Richard N. Goode to the Board of Police Commissioners. But neither of the new commissioners knew anything of the rumor or had heard of it until it was brought to his attention by newspaper men. Both said that they had not thought of such a thing, but did not even contemplate a movement to reorganize the police force in any way whatever.

But no Credence in It.
Other commissioners who were seen talked in a like strain, and were surprised that the rumor had gained such headway. "Street corner gossip" they all characterized it, "and like all street gossip untrue."

Behind the gossip, think some, is seen the hand of a political ring, desirous of effecting a change because of the efficient Chief of Police, and his men. Some wish to see him ousted in the hope of gaining once more a wide-open town, such as existed here twenty or thirty years ago, when Broad Street was infested with gambling joints and all matter of objectionable places.

But that day, said some of the authorities, is gone forever. Richmond will never revert to such conditions again. Sentiment has changed, and with the change of sentiment for better things has come a greater and corresponding efficiency in the Police Department.

The Detective Department has never before in its history been more capably managed, and to attest this statement, it is said that Captain McMahon has the absolute confidence of all the business men in the city.

There seems to be no doubt that a powerful political ring would welcome a change that might possibly take off the lid and make Broad Street a gay white way, but said a commissioner yesterday, the ring is doomed to disappointment, for the board would never effect such a reorganization as it desires.

RACE IN SECOND WILL BE CLOSE

Both Maynard and Young Forces Claim Benefit From Holland's Withdrawal.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Norfolk, Va., July 8.—With the Norfolk out of the race, and the county voters free to choose between the incumbent, Congressman Harry Maynard, and Captain Wm. Young as the Democratic primary in the Second District promises to be one of the prettiest races seen in this section for years. The alignment of the voters in Norfolk county and in the outlying counties is one that is problematical, and has even the astutest politicians guessing.

The question as to who has been benefited by the withdrawal of Mr. Holland is agitating everybody. According to the belief of the alleged "ring" of the city, which is believed to be carrying the city of Norfolk and Norfolk county by large majorities, it is also claimed that Mr. Young will make a good race in Portsmouth, holding down Mr. Maynard's majority there, and that his showing in the counties outlying will be sufficient to insure his election by a good majority.

On the other hand, Mr. Maynard's friends declare that Holland's withdrawal means his election. They claim that Mr. Maynard's majority in Portsmouth and Norfolk county will be sufficient to offset Mr. Young's majority in the city, which they expect the incumbent to cut down materially, and that he will easily carry the outlying counties by good majorities.

These are the claims, but what the voters will do is the question.

Trustlow—Gallahan.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Fredericksburg, Va., July 8.—Ernest Trustlow and Miss Nellie Gallahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Gallahan, both of Stafford county, were married yesterday at the Methodist parsonage in Stafford county, Rev. W. R. Hardesty performing the ceremony. They will reside in Stafford county.

TWO BOYS DROWNED.

Lose Lives While Bathing on Stream
Swollen by Recent Rain.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Roanoke, Va., July 8.—Two boys—Clyde Morgan, aged fourteen years, son of James Morgan, and Emory Morgan, aged fourteen son of J. J. Morgan—were drowned in the Greenbrier River here yesterday afternoon. The boys lived on the south side of the river, in Irish Corner District. They were in the city yesterday morning. They crossed the bridge and went up the river to a point on the dam opposite the St. Lawrence planing mills, where they disrobed and started to take a bath. They were on the old flouring mill dam, which is now covered by the water of the new St. Lawrence dam, some distance below. The recent rains had swollen the river to such an extent that they were probably unaware of the depth of the water. They got beyond their depth, and, being unable to swim, drowned before aid could reach them.

New Bank Elects Cashier.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Roanoke, Va., July 8.—E. W. Tinsley, who a year ago resigned as cashier of the National Exchange Bank, of Roanoke, because of ill health, was today elected cashier of the Colonial Bank of the National City Company, recently organized here, with a capital of half a million dollars.

ALLEGED MURDERER ARRESTED.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Roanoke, Va., July 8.—Chief of Police Rife of Clinton, S. C., left here to-day with Larry Miller, colored, wanted at Clinton for the murder of John Harris eleven years ago. Rewards amounting to $700 were offered for Miller following the killing. He was captured here a week ago, and admits he is the man wanted.

Remarkable Christmas Present.

Among the curious Christmas presents of this year has been for a man of national reputation, which has been all year in the making.

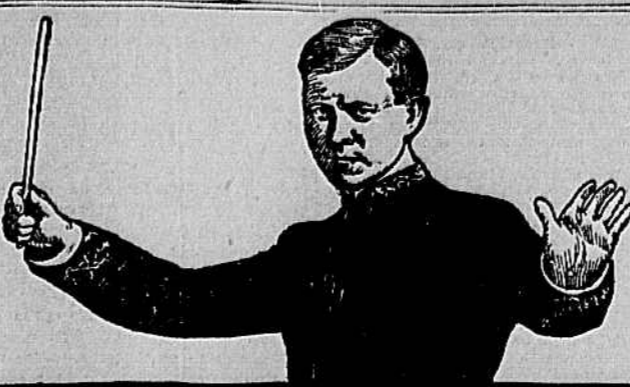

Way last January the present was decided upon, and a friend of the prominent gentleman requested the Burrelle Press Clipping Bureau, of New York, to watch every paper in America, and to take up every item which appeared concerning the man.

The clipping bureau people followed instructions, and now present the history of one year in the life of this special man. The history ends just after election, and 20,642 newspaper items found include everything from a three-line editorial mention to full-page illustrated stories. These have been mounted on 3,200 great sheets of Irish linen paper and bound into three massive volumes.

At the head of each item is the name and date of paper clipped from, this information having been put in with a book typewriter. The words thus inserted amount to 153,852.

In actual time, a very strict record of which has been kept, the work has required thirty-four working days throughout the year, and has kept in employment during that time thirty people as readers, clippers, sorters, mounters and binders. Every newspaper of importance is represented.

This is merely a specimen of some of the unique orders which get into the Burrelle Bureau, for the extent to which clippings are used by individuals and by business concerns seems to be remarkable. There are many people in private as well as in public life who need press clippings and don't know it. It might be well for them to look up this man Burrelle, who is said to be so well known that a letter simply addressed "Burrelle, New York," will reach him with no delay.

few prostrations, and these were not serious. The Blue Army, under General Vaughan, was composed of the First, Second and Fourth Virginia Infantry, one battery of the Third United States Artillery, the Virginia Battalion of Field Artillery, Troop A, of Maryland cavalry, a company of engineers and half a hospital corps.

With the Reds were the Second and Twenty-ninth United States Infantry, the First and Fifth Maryland Infantry, the Fifteenth Cavalry, a battery of the Third Artillery, a company of engineers and hospital corps.

CANNOT PAY TROOPS.

Due to a hitch somewhere, Paymaster-General Consolvo has failed to secure the money for the payment of the troops. This has caused a great deal of trouble to the officers and the enlisted men will find it out to-morrow. There will be general disappointment and disgust. The regulation for the money, it is said, was made on the War Department June 20. Colonel Consolvo said to-night that even if he had the money he could not pay it out, since only one Virginia regiment has its pay rolls ready. The payments will be made later, perhaps next week, by check.

Most of the men will be glad when camp breaks. Ready for the Second Virginia will sound at 3 o'clock, and the work of loading will proceed until 9, when the last train will pull out with the Virginia Infantry. If all is well, this train will reach Elba at 4 P. M. Saturday.

The Howitzer will not get in before night. Governor Mann, with Adjutant General Sale and Colonel Dempsey, left for Richmond at 6:11 o'clock this afternoon. General Woltersop paid a final call, and sent a quartermaster's department automobile to convey the Governor to the station.

BURIED IN CHICAGO

Final Services Held Over Body of Chief Justice Fuller.
Chicago, July 8.—The body of Chief Justice Melville Weston Fuller tonight lies beside that of his wife in Graceland Cemetery.

The funeral train which the flower-strewn coffin reached arrived from Boston at 1 o'clock this afternoon. In the car were Governor Hughes, of New York, and Justices Lurton, Holmes, White, McKenna and Day.

The body lay in state for an hour at the Virginia Hotel, where the Justice made his home in his visits to this city. It was then taken to St. James Episcopal Church.

In his sermon Rev. James E. Freeman paid high tribute to the life and work of the jurist. On government buildings flags were at half-staff. At 3 o'clock, the hour of the funeral, a salute of seventeen guns boomed from the camp of the regular army men in Grant Park. All courts were closed.

Three sons-in-law and three grandsons acted as pallbearers. Judges of the Municipal Court attended the services in a body, while the presiding officers of the Federal and State courts arrived singly or in small groups. Among others present were committees representing the Chicago Bar Association, the Illinois State Bar Association, and numerous other organizations and clubs. Services at the grave were simple.

FACES BUSY LIFE

Little Time for Idling If This Youth Receives Fortune.

Washington, D. C., July 8.—Robert St. George Dyerforth, the eight-year-old foster-son of Robert C. Dyerforth, former Commissioner of Patents, faces a busy life with high rewards, the latter his if he qualifies. The lad is the sole heir of his father, the latter's will, in which the value of the estate is not given, died for probate to-day, provides these conditions for Robert if he would inherit the estate when he reaches the age of twenty-eight.

He is to be graduated from a public high school by the time he is fourteen.

He is to make a full course at Harvard and with a degree before he is eighteen. This is to be followed by a study of law at Oxford. Then he must return to the United States, be graduated from West Point and after holding a commission in the army, resign, "be thoroughly educated."
